[For users]

Available between 9:00–17:00 weekday.

When user requests to use the machine above (QIAcube) only, user does not need to pay registration fee for IDRU and to attend In-Lab Safety Orientation of IDRU. User is able to use the machine above (QIAcube) with only paying the usage fee above. All reagents and consumables required must be prepared by each user.

[Procedure required]

Please submit the Application Form one week before the date that user would like to use. Attendance to the educational lectures for pathogen-handling and/or genetic modification experiment organized by the university is required, if user would like to handle samples containing pathogens/genetically modified organisms via the machine (QIAcube). Appropriate relevant procedures are also needed according to the University restrictions. In such cases, please contact to the IDRU management office in advance. For first time use, please contact to the Laboratory of Veterinary Parasitology before making reservation through web reservation system.
